Section 1 Purpose and Authority

The purpose of this Regulation is to protect the interests of debtors and the public in this state by providing a system of rate, policy form, and operating standards for the transaction of credit life and credit accident and health, and credit unemployment insurance. This regulation interprets and implements R.I. Gen. Laws §§ 27-30-1 et seq.

Section 2 Definitions

As used in this Regulation:

1. “Affiliate” has the same meaning as defined in § 27-35-1.

2. “Closed-end credit” means a credit transaction that does not meet the definition of open-end credit.

3. “Control” has the same meaning as defined in § 27-35-1.
(4) “Evidence of individual insurability” means a statement furnished by the debtor, as a condition of insurance becoming effective that relates specifically to the health status or to the health or medical history of the debtor.

(5) "Gross coverage" means a schedule of uniformly-decreasing credit life insurance in which the amount of life insurance at any time shall not exceed the sum of the remaining periodic payments on the debt. If the credit transaction provides for a variable interest rate and premiums are on a single premium basis, the amounts of coverage shall not exceed the greater of

(a) the amount calculated as if the initial interest rate remained constant, or

(b) the amount calculated with the actual interest rate(s) in effect.

(6) “Loss ratio” means incurred claims divided by the sum of earned premiums and imputed interest earned on unearned premiums.

(7) "Net coverage" means credit life insurance in which the amount of life insurance during any payment period is not greater than the actual debt less any finance charge remaining unearned at the end of such period, plus an allowance for not more than two months' interest at the contract rate for accrued interest that may be due at death. If the credit transaction provides for a variable interest rate, the amount of coverage shall not exceed the greater of

(a) the amount calculated as if the initial interest rate remained constant, or

(b) the amount calculated with the actual interest rate(s) in effect.

(8) “Open-end credit” means credit extended by a creditor under an agreement in which:

(a) The creditor reasonably contemplates repeated transactions;

(b) The creditor imposes a finance charge from time to time on an outstanding unpaid balance; and

(c) The amount of credit that may be extended to the debtor during the term of the agreement (up to any limit set by the creditor) is generally made available to the extent that any outstanding balance is repaid.

(9) “Person” has the same meaning as defined in § 27-35-1.

(10) “Preexisting condition” means any condition for which the insured debtor received medical advice, consultation or treatment within six (6) months before the effective date of the coverage and from which the insured debtor becomes disabled within six (6) months after the effective date of this coverage.
Section 3  Rights and Treatment of Debtors

(1) Multiple Plans of Insurance. If a creditor makes available to the debtors more than one plan of consumer credit life insurance every debtor must be informed of each plan offered by the creditor for which the debtor is eligible and of the premium or insurance charge for each.

(2) Substitution. When a creditor requires insurance as additional security for a debt, the debtor shall be given the option of furnishing the required amount of insurance through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by the debtor or of procuring and furnishing the required coverage through any insurer authorized to transact insurance business in this state. If this subsection is applicable, the debtor shall be informed by the creditor of the right to provide alternative coverage before the transaction is completed.

(3) Termination of group consumer credit insurance policy.

(a) If a debtor is covered by a group consumer credit insurance policy providing for the payment of single premiums to the insurer, or any other premium payment method which prepays coverage beyond one month, then provision shall be made by the insurer that in the event of termination of the policy for any reason, insurance coverage with respect to any debtor insured under such policy shall be continued for the entire period for which the single premium has been paid.

(b) If a debtor is covered by a group consumer credit insurance policy providing for the payment of premiums to the insurer on a monthly basis, then the policy shall provide that, in the event of termination of such policy, termination notice shall be given to the insured debtor at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective date of termination and refunds given in accordance with section 9 except where replacement of the coverage by the same or another insurer in the same or greater amount takes place without lapse of coverage. The insurer shall provide or cause to be provided this required information to the debtor.

(4) Remittance on Premiums. If the creditor adds identifiable insurance charges or premiums for consumer credit insurance to the debt, and any direct or indirect finance, carrying, credit, or service charge is made to the debtor on such insurance charges or premiums, the creditor must remit and the insurer shall collect the premium within sixty (60) days after it is added to the debt.

(5) Refinancing of the Debt. If the debt is discharged due to refinancing prior to scheduled maturity, the insurance in force shall be terminated before any new insurance may be issued in connection with the refinanced debt. In all cases of termination prior to scheduled maturity, a refund of all unearned premium or unearned insurance charges paid by the debtor shall be paid or credited to the debtor as provided in Section 9 of this Regulation. In any refinancing of the debt, the effective date of coverage as respects any policy provision shall be deemed to be the first date on which the debtor became insured.
under the policy with respect to the debt which was refinanced, at least to the extent of the amount and term of the debt outstanding at the time of refinancing of the debt.

(6) Maximum Aggregate Provisions. A provision in an individual policy or group certificate that sets a maximum limit on total claim payments must apply only to that individual policy or group certificate.

(7) Prepayment of Debt. If a debtor prepay s the debt in full then any consumer credit insurance covering the debt shall be terminated and an appropriate refund of the consumer credit insurance premium shall be paid or credited to the debtor in accordance with Section 9. However, if the prepayment is a result of death or any other lump sum consumer credit insurance payment, no refund shall be required for the coverage under which the lump sum was paid. If a claim under credit accident and health coverage or credit unemployment coverage is in progress at the time of prepayment, the amount of refund may be determined as if the prepayment did not occur until the payment of benefits terminates. No refund need be paid during any period of disability for which credit accident and health benefits are payable or during any period of unemployment for which credit unemployment benefits are payable A refund shall be computed as if prepayment occurred at the end of the disability period or at the end of the unemployment period.

(8) If a creditor has opened a line of credit for a debtor and, under § 27-30-4(a)(5) or (6), is charging for this line of credit rather than the amount of debt in the event of the death of the debtor, the insured amount due is the amount of the established amount of credit against which premium was last charged.

(9) Except as detailed in section 3(10) below, gross coverage is no longer permitted in Rhode Island for any line of credit insurance.

(10) (a) A motor vehicle lease is eligible for Credit Life and Credit Accident and Health insurance if:

(1) the lessee's has assumed a contractual obligation to make payments as compensation for use of the leased vehicle,

(2) the total of all payments which the lesses is contractually obligated to make for such use either exceeds or is substantially equal to the value of the property when leased, and

(3) the term of the lease does not exceed 15 years.

(b) Where the lessee's contractual obligation includes paying or guaranteeing a lump sum (the "residual amount") at the end of the periodic payment schedule, the insurance may cover the sum of all periodic payments plus the residual amount. The residual amount will be included in determining the total of all payments for purposes of (a) (b) in this Rule.
(c) Where upon the lessee's death the lessee's estate is obligated to purchase the leased vehicle at a price stated in or determinable under the lease, Credit Life insurance may written to provide a death benefit equal to:

1. the sum of all remaining periodic payments required under the lease plus any residual amount stated in or determinable under the lease; or
2. the purchase price at the time of the lessee's death as stated in or determinable under the lease. The sum of all periodic payments together with any lump sum residual amount will be included in determining with the total of purposes of (a) and (b) in this Rule.

(d) Where neither the lessee's nor the lessee's estate has any obligation with regard to purchase of the leased vehicle or payment or guarantee of any residual amount, Credit Life insurance may be written to provide a death benefit which is equal to the sum of all remaining periodic installments required under the terms of the lease.

(e) Credit Accident and Health insurance may be written to cover only the periodic payments required under the lease.

(f) In addition to all other applicable requirements for Credit Life insurance and Credit Accident and Health insurance, and subject to (a) to (e) in this section, the following information must be fully disclosed in the certificate or the policy of insurance and the lease contract when Credit Life or Credit Accident and Health insurance is provided in connection with a leasing contract:

1. the identity of the lessee, designated as such;
2. the identity of any co lessee, designated as such;
3. the identity of the lessor, designated as such;
4. the amount of the periodic lease payment being insured;
5. the residual amount, if any, insured for Credit Life insurance;
6. the premium for Credit Life insurance on periodic payments under the lease (if provided);
7. the premium for Credit Life insurance on any residual amount (if provided);
8. the premium, if any, for Credit Accident and Health insurance under the lease (if provided).
Whenever a Credit Life insurance certificate or policy provides or may provide Credit Life insurance applicable to a residual amount, such policy or certificate shall include a disclosure as to whether Credit Life insurance is or is not applicable to the residual amount or a statement describing the conditions under which Credit Life insurance will apply to the residual amount.

Section 4
Determination of Reasonableness of Benefits in Relation to Premium Charge

(1) Benefits provided by consumer credit insurance policies must be reasonable in relation to the premiums charged. This requirement is satisfied if the premium rate charged develops or may reasonably be expected to develop a loss ratio, of not less than sixty percent (60%) or such lower loss ratio as designated by the Commissioner to afford a reasonable allowance for actual and expected loss experience, general and administrative expenses, reasonable creditor compensation, investment income, the manner in which premiums are charged and other acquisition costs, reserves, taxes, regulatory license fees and fund assessments, reasonable insurer profit and other relevant actuarial data. With the exception of deviations approved under Section 11, the rates shown in Sections 6 and 7, as adjusted pursuant to Section 10, shall be conclusively presumed to satisfy the loss ratio standard. With the exception of deviations approved under Section 11, the rates shown in Sections 6 and 7 and the rate developed by Section 8, as adjusted pursuant to Section 10, shall be presumed to satisfy the loss ratio standard. Any insurer filing a deviation in accordance with Section 11 must satisfy the loss ratio standard designated by the Commissioner pursuant to Section 10 on their total consumer credit insurance business, including that of affiliated insurers, for each type of insurance defined in Title 27 Chapter 30 of the Rhode Island General Laws for which the deviation is being filed.

(2) Nonstandard Coverage. If any insurer files for approval of any form providing coverage different than that described in Sections 6 through 8, the insurer shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the premium rates to be charged for such coverage are (a) reasonably expected to develop a loss ratio not less than sixty percent (60%), or (b) actuarially consistent with the rates used for standard coverages.

Section 5
Limitation on Compensation

(1) An insurer shall not pay compensation in excess of thirty percent (30%) of the net written prima facie premium of which not more than twenty-five percent (25%) of net written prima facie premium may be paid to a creditor.

(2) For the purpose of Section 5(1), prima facie premium means premium using the premium rates set out in Sections 6 and 7, or actuarially consistent premium rates for plans not described in Sections 6 and 7, without any adjustment pursuant to Section 10.
Section 6  Credit Life Insurance Rates

(1) Premium Rate. Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 6(2) and Section 11, the prima facie rates shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4, and may be used without filing additional actuarial support.

(a) Monthly outstanding balance basis: Sixty six cents ($0.66) per month per one thousand ($1,000) of outstanding insured debt on single life and one dollar and five cents ($1.05) per month per $1,000 of outstanding insured debt on joint life if premiums are payable on a monthly outstanding balance basis.

(b) Single premium basis: If the premium is charged on a single premium basis, the rate shall be computed according to the following formula or according to a formula approved by the commissioner which produces rates substantially the same as those produced by the following formula:

\[ S_p = \sum_{t=1}^{n} \left( \frac{O_p}{10} \times \frac{I_t}{I_i} \times (v^t - 1) \right) \]

\[ v = \frac{1}{1 + (\text{dis})} \]

\[ S_p = \text{Single Premium per $100 of initial consumer credit life insurance coverage.} \]

\[ O_p = $0.66 \text{ or } $1.12, \text{ the prima facie consumer credit life insurance premium rate for monthly outstanding balance coverage from Section 6(1)(a).} \]

\[ I_t = \text{The scheduled amount of insurance for month } t. \]

\[ I_i = \text{Initial amount of insurance. For a net insurance policy, } I_i \text{ equals the initial principal balance of the loan.} \]

\[ \text{dis} = .0020, \text{ representing an annual discount rate of 1.924 percent for interest plus 0.4 percent for mortality.} \]

\[ n = \text{The number of months in the term of the insurance.} \]

(c) If the benefits provided are other than those described in the introduction to this subsection, premium rates for such benefits shall be actuarially consistent with the rates provided in Sections 6(1)(a) and (b).
(2) The premium rate in Section (6)(1) shall apply to contracts providing credit life insurance that are offered to all eligible debtors, that do not require evidence of individual insurability, from any eligible debtor electing to purchase coverage within thirty (30) days of the date the debtor becomes eligible and that contain the provisions below:

(a) Coverage for death by whatever means caused, except that coverage may exclude death resulting from:

(1) War or any act of war;

(2) Suicide within six (6) months after the effective date of the coverage; or,

(3) Subject to the provisions of Section 6(2)(b), a preexisting condition or conditions.

(b) For the purpose of Section 6(2)(a)(3):

(1) Preexisting condition means any condition for which the debtor received medical advice or treatment within six (6) months preceding the effective date of coverage;

(2) No preexisting condition exclusion shall apply unless death is caused by or substantially contributed to by the preexisting condition and unless death occurs within six (6) months following the effective date of coverage; and,

(3) A preexisting condition exclusion shall apply only if and to the extent that the amount of coverage to which it would otherwise apply (in the absence of this limitation) exceeds $1,000.

(c) For the exclusions listed in Section 6(2)(a) and (b) above, the effective date of coverage for each part of the insurance attributable to a different advance or a charge to the plan account is the date on which the advance or charge occurs.

(d) At the option of the insurer and in lieu of a preexisting condition exclusion on insurance written in connection with open-ended consumer credit, a provision may be included to limit the amount of insurance payable on death due to natural causes to the balance as it existed six (6) months prior to the date of death if there has been one or more increases in the outstanding balance during the six-month period and if evidence of individual insurability has not been required in the six-month period prior to the date of death. This provision applies only if and to the extent that the amount of coverage to which it would otherwise apply (in the absence of this limitation) exceeds $1,000.
An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).

(3) Application of Rates:

(a) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance does not request or require that the debtor provide evidence of insurability, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 6(1).

(b) Except as provided in Section 6(3)(c), if the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is $15,000 or less, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the rates in Section 6(1) multiplied by 90 percent (.90).

(c) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of insurance is above $15,000 or the applicant elects to purchase coverage more than thirty (30) days after the date the debtor became eligible under a group plan of insurance, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 6(1). For policies insuring open lines of credit, the insurer may require evidence of insurability for advances which increase the outstanding debt above $15,000.

(4) Insurers may use the same application forms for credit life insurance whether or not underwriting questions are asked pursuant to Section 6(3). The commissioner will presume that any application form for which all relevant underwriting questions have been left unanswered represents a policy which has not been underwritten and for which prima facie rates are permissible. A form for which any relevant underwriting questions have been answered or filled in represents a policy for which premium decreases pursuant to Section 6(3) are required. Insurers should maintain in their files their rules for those circumstances where underwriting questions shall be asked. Those rules shall be communicated to and followed by the insurer’s agents or other producers.

Section 7
Credit Accident and Health Insurance

(1) Premium Rate. Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 6(2) and Section 11, the prima facie rates shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4, and may be used without filing additional actuarial support.

(a) If premiums are payable on a single-premium basis for the duration of the coverage the prima facie rate per $100 of initial insured debt for single accident and health is as set forth in the table below (rates for monthly periods other than those listed shall be interpolated or extrapolated):

* There are no prima facie rates for these categories nor for loans in excess of one hundred twenty (120) months. Subject to approval by the Commissioner, such loans may be insured on any monthly premium basis that can be actuarially demonstrated to produce an anticipated loss ratio of at least sixty percent (60%).

(b) If premiums are paid on the basis of a premium rate per month per thousand of outstanding insured gross debt, these premiums shall be computed according to the following formula or according to a formula approved by the Commissioner which produces rates actuarially consistent with the single premium rates in Section 7(1)(a):

\text{OP}_n = \frac{10 \text{ SP}_n}{\frac{n}{\sum (v^t - 1 \times (n-t+1))}}

where \( v = \frac{1}{1 + \text{dis}} \)

Where \( \text{SP}_n = \) Single Premium Rate per $100 of initial insured debt repayable in \( n \) equal monthly installments as shown in Section 7(1)(a).

\( \text{OP}_n = \) Monthly Outstanding Balance Premium Rate per $1,000.

\( n = \) The number of months in the term of the insurance.

\( \text{dis} = .0016, \) representing an annual discount rate of 1.924 percent for interest.
(c) If the coverage provided is a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time, the actuarial equivalent of Section 7(1)(a) and (b) shall be used.

(d) If the coverage provided is a combination of a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time after which the maximum indemnity begins to decrease in even amounts per month, an appropriate combination of the premium rate for a constant maximum indemnity for a given period of time and the premium rate for a maximum indemnity which decreases in even amounts per month shall be used.

(e) The outstanding balance rate for credit accident and health insurance may be either a term specified rate or may be a single composite term outstanding balance rate.

(2) Subject to the conditions and requirements in Section 7(1) and Section 11, the prima facie rates for credit accident and health insurance shown below are considered to meet the requirements of Section 4 in the situation where the insurance is written on an open-end loan. These prima facie rates and the formulae used to calculate them may be used without filing additional actuarial support. Other formulae to convert from a closed-end credit rate to an open-end credit rate may be used if approved by the commissioner.

(a) If the maximum benefit of the insurance equals the net debt on the date of disability, the term of the loan is calculated according to the formula:

\[ \frac{1}{\text{minimum payment percent}} \]

The prima facie rate is determined by applying the calculated term to the rates shown in Section 7(1). A composite minimum payment percentage may be used in place of the minimum payment percentage for a specific credit transaction.

(b) If the maximum benefit of the insurance equals the outstanding balance of the loan on the date of disability plus any interest accruing on that amount during disability, the term of the insurance (n) is estimated by using the following formula:

where:

- \(i\) = interest rate on the account or a composite interest rate used for the type of policy;
- \(x\) = monthly payment per $1000 of coverage consistent with the term calculated above; and,
- \(v = 1/(1 + i)\).

The calculated value of the term is used to look up an initial rate in Section 7(1). The final prima facie rate is calculated by multiplying the initial rate by:
the adjustment \( n/a_n \)

where:
\( n \) is the term calculated above; and
\[ a_n = \frac{1 - v}{i}. \]

(3) If the accident and health coverage is sold on a joint basis (involving two people), the rate for the joint coverage shall be filed with the commissioner prior to use.

(4) If the benefits provided are other than those described in Section 7(1) or 7(2) above, rates for those benefits shall be actuarially consistent with rates provided in Section 7(1) and 7(2). Critical period coverage is an allowable coverage in the state of Rhode Island.

(5) The premium rates in Section 7(1) shall apply to contracts providing credit accident and health insurance that are offered to all eligible debtors, that do not require evidence of individual insurability from any eligible debtor electing to purchase coverage within thirty (30) days of the date the debtor becomes eligible and that contain the provisions below:

(a) Coverage for disability by whatever means caused, except that coverage may be excluded for disabilities resulting from: (1) normal pregnancy; (2) war or any act of war; (3) elective surgery; (4) intentionally self-inflicted injury; (5) sickness or injury caused by or resulting from the use of alcoholic beverages or narcotics (including hallucinogens) unless they are administered on the advice of and taken as directed, by a licensed physician other than the insured; (6) flight in any aircraft other than a commercial scheduled aircraft; (7) a preexisting condition.

(b) For the exclusion listed in Section 7(6)(c) above, the effective date of coverage for each part of the insurance attributable to a different advance or a charge to the plan account is the date on which the advance or charge occurs.

(c) A definition of disability providing that for the first twelve (12) months of disability, total disability shall be defined as the inability to perform the essential functions of the insured’s own occupation. Thereafter, it shall mean the inability of the insured to perform the essential functions of any occupation for which he or she is reasonably suited by virtue of education, training or experience.

(d) No employment requirement more restrictive than one requiring that the debtor be employed full-time on the effective date of coverage and for at least twelve (12) consecutive months prior to the effective date of coverage. “Full time” means a regular work week of not less than thirty (30) hours.

(e) An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).

(f) A daily benefit equal in amount to one-thirtieth (1/30th) of the monthly benefit payable under the policy.

(6) Application of Rates:

(a) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance does not request or require that the debtor provide evidence of insurability, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 7(1).

(b) Except as provided in Section 7(2)(f)(3), if the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of the loan is $15,000 or less, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the rates in Section 7(1) multiplied by 90 percent (.90).

(c) If the insurer, its agent, or the application form for credit life insurance requests or requires that the debtor provide evidence of insurability and the initial amount of the loan is above $15,000 or the applicant elects to purchase coverage more than thirty (30) days after the date the debtor became eligible under a group plan of insurance, then the premium rates deemed reasonable will be the prima facie rates in Section 7(1). For policies insuring open lines of credit, the insurer may require evidence of insurability for advances which increase the outstanding debt above $15,000.

(7) Insurers may use the same application forms for credit accident and health insurance whether or not underwriting questions are asked pursuant to Section 7(6). The commissioner will presume that any application form for which all relevant underwriting questions have been left unanswered represents a policy which has not been underwritten and for which prima facie rates are permissible. A form for which any relevant underwriting questions have been answered or filled in represents a policy for which premium decreases pursuant to Section 7(6) are required. Insurers should maintain in their files their rules for those circumstances where underwriting questions shall be asked. Those rules shall be communicated to and followed by the insurer’s agents or other producers.
Section 8  Credit Unemployment Insurance Rates

(1) Each insurer filing rates for credit unemployment insurance shall include in its rate filing with the commissioner the appropriate rate formula upon which its rates are based, including a provision for anticipated losses. Anticipated losses that develop or are expected to develop a loss ratio of not less than sixty percent (60%) shall be presumed reasonable. Anticipated losses may include an amount for fluctuation in loss due to catastrophe based on the experience of at least the latest nine (9) policy years or as long as the company has been writing this line of business.

(2) Credit unemployment insurance policies must contain benefits at least as favorable to insureds as the provisions below:

(a) Coverage for unemployment for any reason, except that coverage may be excluded for: (a) voluntary forfeiture of salary, wage or other employment income; (b) resignation; (c) retirement; (d) general strike; (e) illegal walk out; (f) war; (g) separation from the military; (h) willful misconduct or criminal misconduct or unlawful behavior; and (i) disability caused by injury, sickness or pregnancy.

(b) For credit unemployment insurance which provides for a monthly benefit in the event of unemployment, benefits must start after a waiting period of not longer than thirty (30) days but need not be retroactive to the first day of unemployment and must have a maximum benefit period that is no shorter than six (6) months.

(3) Credit unemployment insurance policies may not contain eligibility requirements more restrictive than the restrictions below:

(a) Exclusion from qualification for coverage: (1) self employed individuals; (2) workers in seasonal or temporary jobs, defined as jobs designed to last six (6) consecutive months or less; and, (3) debtors who have been notified either orally or in writing of any layoff or of employment termination either now or within the next sixty (60) days. This exclusion must be disclosed to all prospective insureds.

(b) No employment requirement more restrictive than one requiring that the debtor be employed full-time on the effective date of coverage for at least twelve (12) consecutive months prior to the effective date of coverage. “Full time” means a regular work week of not less than thirty (30) hours.

(c) An age restriction providing that no insurance will become effective on debtors on or after the attainment of age sixty-six (66) and that all insurance will terminate upon attainment by the debtor of age sixty-six (66).
Section 9  Refund Formulas

(1) In the event of termination, no charge for credit insurance may be made for the first fifteen (15) days of a month and full month may be charged for sixteen (16) days or more of a month.

(2) The requirements of the Consumer Credit Insurance Law that refund formulas be filed with the Commissioner shall be considered fulfilled if the refund formulas are set forth in the individual policy or group certificate filed with the Commissioner.

(3) No refund of five dollars ($5) or less need be made.

(4) With regard to insurance paid in advance or by single premium, in the event of termination of the insurance prior to the scheduled maturity date of the insurance the insurer shall provide a refund as indicated above upon notice to the insurer along with information sufficient to allow the insurer to contact the debtor.

Section 10  Experience Reports and Adjustment of Prima Facie Rates

(1) Each insurer doing insurance business in this state shall annually file with the commissioner and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Support and Services Office a report of consumer credit insurance written on a calendar year basis. The report shall utilize the Credit Insurance Supplement—Annual Statement Blank as approved by the NAIC, and shall contain data separately for each state, rather than an allocation of the company’s countrywide experience. The filing shall be made in accordance with and no later than the due date in the Instructions to the Annual Statement.

(2) The commissioner will, on a triennial basis, review the loss ratio standards or composite rating set forth in Section 4 and the prima facie rates set forth in Sections 6 and 7 and developed in section 8 and determine therefrom the rate of expected claims on a statewide basis, compare such rate of expected claims with the rate of actual claims for the preceding three (3) years determined from the incurred claims and earned premiums at prima facie rates reported in the Annual Statement Supplement or other available source, and publish the adjusted actual statewide prima facie rates to be used by insurers during the next triennium. The rates will reflect the difference between (a) actual claims based on experience; and (b) expected claims based on the loss ratio standards or composite rating set forth in Section 4 applied to the prima facie rates set forth in Sections 6 and 7 and developed in section 8.

(3) The commissioner will, on a triennial basis, review the discount rates for interest included in the formulae in Sections 6(1) and 7(1), and adjust those discount rates to equal the average of the rates being paid at that time on three-year United States Treasury Notes as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the last day of sale in the most recent three (3) calendar years.
Section 11  Use of Rates -- Direct Business Only

(1) Use of Prima Facie Rates

An insurer that files rates or has rates on file that are equivalent to the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7 and developed in section 8, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, may use those rates without further proof of their reasonableness.

(2) Use of Rates Higher Than Prima Facie Rates.

An insurer may file for approval of and use rates that are higher than the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7 and developed in section 8, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, as long as the filed rates are consistent with the provisions of Section 4 of this regulation.

If rates higher than the prima facie rates shown in Sections 6 and 7 and developed in section 8, to the extent adjusted pursuant to Section 10, are filed for approval, the filing shall specify the account or accounts to which the rates apply. The rates may be:

(a) Applied uniformly to all accounts of the insurer; or

(b) Applied on an equitable basis approved by the commissioner to only one or more accounts of the insurer for which the experience has been less favorable than expected; or

(c) Applied according to a case-rating procedure on file with the commissioner.

(3) Approval Period of Deviated Rates

(a) A deviated rate will be in effect for a period of time not longer than the experience period used to establish the rate (i.e. one year, two years or three years). An insurer may file for a new rate before the end of a rate period, but not more often than once during any twelve-month period.

(b) Notwithstanding the provision of Section 11(1) of this section, if an account changes insurers, the rate approved to be used for the account by the prior insurer is the maximum rate that may be used by the succeeding insurer for the remainder of the rate approval period approved for the prior insurer or until a new rate is approved for use on the account, if sooner.

(4) Use of Rates Lower Than Filed Rates

An insurer may at any time use a rate for an account that is lower than its filed rate without notice to the commissioner.

(5) Glossary of Terms and Definitions as Used in Section 11
(a) “Experience” means “earned premiums” and “incurred losses during the experience period.

(b) “Experience period” means the most recent period of time for which earned premiums and incurred losses are reported, but not for a period longer than three (3) full years.

(c) “Incurred losses” means total claims paid during the experience period, adjusted for the change in claim reserve.

(3) Deposit by an insurer of money or securities without interest or at a lesser rate of interest than is currently being paid by the creditor, bank or financial institution to other depositors of like amounts for similar durations.
