Pursuant to the provisions of R.I. Gen. Laws § 7-11-705 and 42-14-17, and in accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act Chapter 42-35 of the General Laws, the Department of Business Regulation hereby gives notice of its intent to amend Securities Rule 209(c)-1. 1, Post Licensing Filings, of the Rules promulgated under the Rhode Island Uniform Securities Act (“RIUSA”) R.I. Gen Laws §§ 7-11-101 et seq.

The purpose of these amendments are (1) to amend Rule 207 to remove definition of “branch offices” which will reduce regulatory burden on broker dealers and allow them to utilize a newly designed FINRA license, (2) to amend Rule 209 to accurately reflect the intent of § 7-11-209(c)(2) of RIUSA while at the same time effectively complying with record requests associated with both broker-dealer and investment adviser examinations and/or investigations and (3) to add SEC and FINRA to Rule 212. In addition all references to NASD have been changed to FINRA.

The proposed amended regulation and concise summary of non-technical amendments are available for public inspection at www.dbr.ri.gov, in person at Department of Business Regulation, 1511 Pontiac Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island 02920, or requested by electronic mail (e-mail) at dmurray@dbr.state.ri.us or by calling Dennis Murray at (401) 462-9584.

In the development of the proposed amendment consideration was given to: (1) alternative approaches; (2) overlap or duplication with other statutory and regulatory provisions; and (3) significant economic impact on small business. No alternative approach, duplication, or overlap was identified based upon available information.

All interested parties are invited to submit written or oral comments concerning the proposed amendment by May 25, 2010 to Dennis Murray, Department of Business Regulation, Securities Division, 1151 Pontiac Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island 02920 – telephone 401-462-9584. A. Michael Marques
Director, Department of Business Regulation
In accordance with the Administrative Procedures Act, Section 42-35-3(a)(1) of the General Laws of Rhode Island, following is a concise summary of proposed non-technical amendments:

1. Rule 207(a)(1) has been corrected to change a numbering error that previously identified the subsections as (A), (B) and (A). The proposal changes the numbering to (A), (B) and (C). Rule 207(a)(1)(C) adds specifically to CFP certification and removes phrase “each branch office.” The purpose of these changes is to ensure that the Rule accurately reflects the intent of § 7-11-207(a) of RIUSA that imposes an examination requirement on an applicant or a class of applicants for licensing under RIUSA. Currently, Rule 207(a)-1.3 requires a broker-dealer to have a Series 24 licensed General Securities Principal at both the principal office and at each branch office in this state. In June 2008 the Legislature amended § 7-11-206 (f) of RIUSA to reflect the securities industry definition of a “branch office” promulgated in 2007 by the SEC and FINRA, and adhered to by a substantial majority of state regulators. That definition identifies a branch office as “…any location where one or more associated persons of a broker-dealer regularly conducts the business of effecting any transactions in, or inducing or attempting to induce the purchase or sale of any security.” Prior to the amendment, § 7-11-206 (f) of RIUSA defined a branch office as “…an office of a broker dealer where three or more sales representatives transact business.” Under that definition, Rule 207(a)-1.3 required a Series 24 licensed General Securities Principal be physically present at both that branch office location as well as at the principal office of the broker dealer. As amended, § 7-11-206 (f) now defines a branch office as any location where one or more associated persons of a broker-dealer regularly conducts securities business. The amendment proposed to Rule 207(a)-1.3 will substantially reduce the regulatory burdens on broker dealers and the increased costs associated with them. In addition, adopting this amendment will allow a broker dealer to take advantage of the newly designated FINRA license – Series 9/10 General Securities Sales Supervisor – that was approved by the SEC, and is specifically intended to supervise branch office activities while maintaining the requirement that a Series 24 licensed General Securities Principal, located at the principal office of the broker dealer, retain ultimate responsibility.

2. Rule 209 (c)-1.1 eliminates the requirement that broker-dealers submit a copy of the firm’s annual financial report to the Director by making the same report available, on demand and immediately, via facsimile, or through the Internet in a PDF document format and eliminates the requirement that investment advisers submit a copy of the firm’s balance sheet to the Director by making the same report available, on demand and immediately, via facsimile, or through the Internet in a PDF document format. The amendment will substantially reduce the expense incurred by both businesses and the State in the preparation, processing, mailing, handling and storage of the records that are produced. Adopting this amendment will allow for electronic processing of only the records required on a case-by-case basis and eliminate the duplication of efforts that presently exist. In addition, a numbering error in § 7-11-207(a)(1) has been corrected.

3. Rule 212 has been amended to add “…the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA).”

4. Throughout the rule all references to the NASD have been changed to FINRA to reflect the name change of the organization.
